*An expedition is being mounted to travel to the borders of Halgudar and beyond to find out the disturbance of our supply lines.
We seek the following for our quest:*

*Merchants looking to re-establish trade routes
Fighters / Adventurers skilled in defense and protection Mages capable of divining the mysteries we may encounter and if the rumors have merit, Healers and Followers of the Light to fend off the shambling nightmares.*

Coin will be paid based upon skill and contribution to the expedition.

Applicants should report to Sir Reginald Farnsworth III at the Farnsworth Estate in the High Quarter of Kessid, Irroquin

or Mage Drayan Farnsworth at the Hall of Travelers at the docks in eastern Kura'stan

---

Synopsis: Irroquin relies on the foodstuffs of Lindora being shipped through Halgudar to Lake Cymfal, then down the Ghiri River, and in through the port of Kessid. This trade has all but ceased, and Prince Terrin has tasked Reginald Farnsworth III to draw on the Royal Treasury to assemble and lead a team of adventurers to Lake Cymfal to determine the problem, and solve it if possible.

This team will set-forth overland to Kura'Stan, where others will join the group, and then begin the long trail to the east into war-torn Halgudar.
